REPORT AIRLINER WRECK SIGHTED

O'DONNELL H. B. OIL DRILLING BILL GIVEN 'DO PASS' REPORT

SEAL BEACH WARNED ON RABIES

Dr. Sutherland Fears Second Outbreak in Coming Week

A new outbreak of rabies may be expected in Seal Beach about a week from today, Dr. K. H.
Sutherland, county health officer, warned today.

Already 12 persons in the beach city are under treatment with rabies anti-toxin after being bitten or otherwise exposed by pets which developed the dreaded disease.

Three dogs developed rabies two weeks ago after biting several persons. Since then six other dogs have developed symptoms. Dr.
Sutherland said five dogs are known definitely to have had rabies, three others apparently had the disease, and another was found rabid today in laboratory tests.

Other dogs may develop the disease approximately three weeks after exposure, he said.

The health officer warned dog owners to keep their pets chained or in small enclosures, both to prevent them from being infected and to prevent spread of the disease if they should develop rabies.

Anyone bitten by a dog should report to his physician, the police department, or the county health department, Dr. Sutherland said.

311 ACRES BEAN
LAND IS SOLD

A total of 311 acres of bean land in the Fairview district had changed hands today.

Following the purchase of 151 acres by Charles Griset, Tustin, it was announced that the new owner will drill a water well on the property and plant it to beans.

The property was part of the old Goldschmidt estate. The deal was handled by A. H. Hefford, of the James B. Utt Realty company.

It also was announced that James Utt has purchased an adjoining 160 acres of land. The price was not announced on this parcel, although it was reported that the Griset deal involved about $40,000. The property purchased by Utt will be subdivided into small farms.

Court Defers Wagner Ruling

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The supreme court deferred today until at least next Monday a decision on constitutionality of the Wagner labor relations act.

After deciding a minor District of Columbia case in a decision read by Justice Stone, the tribunal ended its opinion session until next Monday.

Wage Waistline War

By KENNETH ADAMS

A waistline war was launched today by members of Orange county's highway patrol squad.

Spinach and lettuce, lamb chops and pineapple, and plenty of exercise were prescribed for the motorcycle officers who are too fat.

Dog Hero Wins Life Saving Medal

Pluto I, the dog hero, soon will have another shiny medal to rattle on his massive chest. The 180-pound St.
Bernard, owned by Richard (Shorty) Gunther, Newport Beach, is credited with having saved at least five lives. His latest honor was given him by the Latham Foundation of Oakland, of which Edith Latham is president. The medal, representing one of the highest awards in dogdom, was secured through the efforts of Charles D. Ocan, president of the Orange County Humane society.

On June 13, 1936, Pluto saved
6-year-old George Mabes of 229 South Walnut street, Brea, from drowning. During the year he saved four others, but there was no opportunity for securing the names of those he saved, Ocan said, because of the excitement.

Likes Children
Pluto has a medal from the New York Visitation society, and has been recognized by the Newport Beach city council by being appointed an official life saver.

He has a badge to prove this. The big dog is fond of children, and takes care of all their problems and hurts. Gunther had two female St. Bernards, but both of them were poisoned last year.

Orange county now has two dog heroes. Ocan secured a medal for Sir Buddy Gamin, a French bulldog owned by Earl B. Hawks, Santa Ana realtor. Sir Buddy saved the life of Mrs. Hawks, by warning her of her danger from gas which flooded the house while Mrs. Hawks was asleep.

If there are any dog heroes in Orange county Ocan would like to know about it, so he can get medals for them, too.

Three S. A. Instructors
Accused in $100,000
Alienation Case

Three Santa Ana school teachers today had been named defendants in a $100,000 alienation of affections suit started in Los Angeles superior court by Mrs.
Harriett M. Thrasher, who charged they destroyed the love of Charles Edward Thrasher, retired Corona merchant.

Two of the defendants are Thrasher's sisters, Miss Hazel I.
Thrasher and Miss Leila Thrasher, both teachers at Lathrop Junior High school. Miss Esther Rideout, also a teacher at Lathrop and roommate of the Thrasher sisters, was named in the complaint.

Three other sisters of Thrasher, and his mother, Mrs. Mary E.
Thrasher, wealthy Corona widow, are co-defendants in the action.

Mrs. Thrasher also has filed a suit against her husband for $150 monthly separate maintenance.

herron, chief of the WPA staff in this county.

provement work in the Fullerton

PLAN DIVIDES TIDELAND IN 9 PARCELS

State to Receive More
Than 20 Pct. Royalty
From Oil Firms

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—Legislation enabling the state to negotiate leases for the extraction and marketing of its Huntington Beach oil was started on its way by an assembly committee today.

The committee gave a do pass recommendation to Assemblyman John H. O'Donnell's bill 2090. It is first instance this session at which any group has been able to agree upon a definite proposal to mine the state's sub-ocean pool estimated to have value of around a half million dollars.

Similar legislation previously undertaken in the senate resulted in a reference to committee of the widely divergent Swing and Olson bills after a protracted fight on the floor that brought little but conflict.

Provide State Royalty
O'Donnell's measure divides the tidelands area into nine parcels to be contracted to private interests upon competitive bidding which will determine the royalty each state is to receive. This must be more than 20 per cent. No company can receive a contract to drill more than one parcel and leases are to be for 10 years with provisions for extension for five years or as long as oil is produced, not exceeding 25 years.

W. J. Kennitz, Orange county resident who appeared before the committee today, said he thought the majority of people of that county would not be opposed to pier drilling, in view of the fact the state's holdings are now being drained by scores of wells.

O'Donnell said he was convinced pier drilling was the proper thing, and that a study of 10 years of experience at the Ellwood field, Santa Barbara, had shown tide-land holdings could be worked without any fear of pollution of waters.

Destruction of the "ascetic" beauty of the beach, O'Donnell said, is nonsense. From Sixth street up, he said, the beauty of the beach has already been destroyed.

SIX LOSE LIVES IN TEXAS LAKE

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)— Medina Lake's worst tragedy today had taken the lives of six persons.

A sudden gale swept across the main channel of the lake, upsetting two motor boats and spilling their 11 occupants into the deep water of Medina's main channel.

Sam Johnson died while attempting to reach his five-year-old daughter, Minnie Lee. Rescuers who arrived more than an hour later found Mrs. Johnson clinging to the side of the boat, still supporting her little daughter, who was dead.

George Johnson, her nine-year-old son, was rescued by Frank Trahan.

The others who died were: Mrs.
Lucille Lamkin, about 35; Henry
L. Lamkin, 45; James E. Stone;
Leslie A. Bowers, 34.

20 Years Ago Tomorrow Is Day the Vets Remember

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The twentieth anniversary tomorrow of the United States' entrance into the World war finds only a handful of government leaders of which period still in public service.

Some of the men whose names were household words have died in the two decades since the nation entered the conflict. Service generals and admirals have passed the compulsory retirement age, and other war-time figures, while still active, are in private business.

Only 47 members of that special session of congress on April 6, 1917, are members of the seventy-fifth congress. They include three of those who voted against war—Senators George Norris (Ind., Neb.) and Lundeen (Fl., Minn.), and Rep. Knutson (Minn.).

of the navy 20 years ago, Franklin

VOTES DOWN AMENDMENT 48 TO 36

Police Active in WPA
Walkout; Ford Plant
Dispute Settled

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate refused today to write a condemnation of sit-down strikes into the Guffey-Vinson coal bill.

It rejected an amendment denouncing sit-downs as "illegal and contrary to sound public policy."
The vote was 48 to 36.

The amendment was introduced by Senator Byrnes (D., S. C.) and was fought bitterly by administration leaders who claimed that any senate expression on sit-down strikes should be made in an independent resolution and not in connection with the coal bill.

Defeat of the Byrnes amendment climaxed several days of debate in which some adherents of a quick vote on the proposal argued the senate should not sidestep or delay the strike issue for any reason.

POLICE TAKE ACTION
IN BAY WPA STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Police squad took action against WPA strike pickets here and in Oakland today, but despite threats of trouble at four projects there was no disorder.

The police, some carrying tear gas equipment, pressed back the picket lines at WPA regional headquarters here after ejecting a number of strikers who had entered the building with the announced intention of sitting down.

Pickets were also dispersed or forced away from entrances of an arts project here and two sewing projects in Oakland.

Walter Koeltz, WPA administrator for the Oakland region, said 22 of 40 projects closed by the strike Friday and Saturday had reopened. He estimated that

BEGIN WORK ON CHURCH TODAY

Jules Markel, Santa Ana contractor, today started demolition of the First Presbyterian church, Sixth and Sycamore, in preparation for rebuilding the structure into a new $54,000 church.

Workers today were erecting a scaffold and removing interfering telephone lines.

By the end of the week, Markel said today, both bell towers will be removed and the rear of the structure will be torn away to allow new construction to proceed.

Atlantic City Hotel Destroyed

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—
The once-fashionable Grand Atlantic hotel, a half block from the resort's famous board walk, was destroyed by a spectacular, four-hour fire today. The building was unoccupied.

Fought by 200 firemen and watched by 20,000 spectators, the blaze forced evacuation of 200 guests from the adjoining Royal Palms hotel. Fire authorities estimated the loss at $250,000. The five-story, rambling frame hotel had not yet opened for the season.
It was built 40 years ago.

TRIO HELD IN LOCAL SCRIBE MARR CASE WINS HONOR

City Clerk Involved With Man Wanted in Bunco
Case Here

The web of Warren Marr, alleged confidence man wanted here on four counts of grand theft and one count of escaping from an officer, today had enveloped three Indiana men, one of them the city clerk of Marion.

City Clerk Ray Norman and a man named Curtis Strange, charged with complicity in the swindling of several Indiana women out of more than $80,000 since Marr's escape from an Orange county deputy sheriff last October, already have entered pleas of guilty to charges of violating the state securities act, according to newspaper reports from Marion.

A third man, Garland Twaddle of Coshen, Ind., is being held on the charges.

Marr himself, object of a country-wide search since he fled from an Orange county deputy in Pasadena last October, turned up in custody of Marion police last week on charges of violating the state securities act in the alleged $80,000 swindle.

A letter received here by Sheriff
Logan Jackson from Indiana authorities placed the amount of Marr's security activities at $900-000. All other reports, however, have ranged between $80,000 and $90,000, and Jackson said today he believed the larger amount was a typographical error.

Marr will not be brought here for trial until after Indiana authorities are through with their prosecution and he has served his term, if convicted, in that state.

Harvey Baker of S. A.
Jaycee Takes News
Writing Prize

Harvey Baker, advertising manager of El Don, Santa Ana junior college student newspaper, won one of three news and editorial writing awards Saturday at the fourth annual press convention at the University of California at Berkeley.

He was one of 250 students who competed in the contest, and the only junior college entrant to win an award. Stories and editorials were based on an interview with an imaginary scientist who announced a revolutionary discovery.

Baker is son of Dr. W. P. Baker and Mrs. Baker of 1624 North Baker street, Santa Ana. Bob Swanson, editor of El Don, John H. McCoy, junior college journalism instructor, and Mrs. McCoy attended the convention. Other winners were from Pittsburgh High school and Stockton High school.

Talks by Peter B. Kyne, novelist, and Sam Hayes, radio news broadcaster, were features of the convention. The local group attended a series of round-table discussions of newspaper work.

SHIP MISSING 3 DAYS WITH 8 ABOARD

Word From Gallup, N.
M., Tells of Tragedy
There Saturday

GALLUP, N. M. (AP)—The sheriff's office at St. John's, Ariz., reported today the wreckage of an airplane had been located a mile and a half from Alpine, 60 miles from there. Whether it was the missing Douglas plane could not immediately be determined. Eight persons were aboard the missing craft.

The wreckage was sighted in the general area where John T.
Buckley, operator of a resort lodge at Greer, Ariz., said he saw a big transport plane circling Saturday afternoon in a snowstorm.

Alpine is about 30 miles southeast of Greer with inaccessible mountain country between. It is about 30 miles south of Spring-ville, Ariz., near the New Mexico state line.

Hunt For Wreckage

The report, the telephone operator at St. John's said, came from the wife of Willard Bond, U. S. forest ranger near Alpine. Searching parties from Springerville including deputies and state police, have gone out to hunt for the wreckage, the operator said.

Mrs. Bond, the operator said, reported to authorities that the plane had circled their home Saturday afternoon and that later her son came in to tell her the plane had crashed.

RANCHER REPORTS SAW PLANE CIRCLING

WINSTON, Ariz. (AP)—The TWA airport disclosed today it had received a telephone call Saturday morning saying a rancher near Greer, Ariz., saw "a big plane" circling low over his ranch at 3 p. m. Saturday. Airport atbility it could have been the miss-

TEN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS REPORTED

Seven Persons Injured As County Flooded With Cars

Ideal week-end weather brought thousands of autos to Orange county streets and highways, resulting in 10 accidents. Seven persons were reported injured.

Paul Postada, 73, Oakland, was slightly injured last night when a car driven by George Postada collided with an auto parked in front of 1823 West First street.

It Looks Like 'Petticoats' Will Rule Five Kansas Towns

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Woman's place, some are saying in Kansas, is in the city hall.

Six complete "petticoat" tickets seek election today in five small towns.

Women gained from the legislature the right to share equally with men in political organization; and one woman has been elected a county central chairman for the first time.

Barring unforeseen write-in campaigns, two Kansas towns are certain of being ruled the next two years by the hand that formerly rocked the cradle.

STATE ENTERS BRIDE FIGHTS GRAFT PROBE ANNULMENT

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—State Attorney General U. S. Webb's office took a hand for the first time today in the San Francisco graft investigation when Chief Deputy Attorney General Robert Harrison appeared to aid in the selection of a new grand jury.

Superior Judge James G. Conlan ordered 30 talesmen into his court room to undergo rigid examinations. Nineteen members will comprise the final membership.

In previous years, two hours usually has been the time required to select a grand jury, but Judge Conlan said he expected the selection of the present one to require all day and possibly longer. Deputy Attorney General Harrison was called in by Judge Conlan for the jury examination after San Francisco officials had become involved in a bitter controversy following publication of a report by Graft Investigator Edwin N. Atherton.

The previous grand jury was discharged by Presiding Judge George Steiger.

'Y' to Launch Badminton Play

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings are badminton evenings in the Y.M.C.A. for the spring months, according to Secretary R. C. Smedley. The Y badminton club is getting under way this week and there will be lively play each evening.

Spectators are invited to observe the play from the gallery with the exception that many observers will decide to become players. The game is easily learned, so far as the rules are concerned, but expertness is a matter of practice. The badminton club is open to all men and women who wish to engage in the game in the Y gymnasium. Men who are members of the Y.M.C.A. may join the club with no extra expense. Those who are not members will pay a small club fee. After a week or two of play to get everyone acquainted a schedule will be drawn up for regular competition in which each player will have an opportunity to meet other players in a round of tournament play.

The annual war games, to be staged this year in the Alaska-Hawaiian - California 5,000,000 square mile triangle of the Pacific ocean, open April 16 with departure of the forces from California bases, and terminate May 28 with the fleet's entry through the Golden Gate to participate in San Francisco's bridge celebration.

It was disclosed today that plans have been made for 139 naval ships and 474 airplanes to participate in problem XVIII. Admiral A. J. Heppburn, commander-in-chief of the fleet, will be chief umpire. Admiral C. C. Bloch, battle force commander, will command the Black fleet, and Vice Admiral W. T. Tarrant of the scouting force will command the White fleet.

Climax Year's Work
The annual fleet problems, making use of the bulk of America's sea power, are the climax of each year's training of the nation's naval forces. This year it is the eighth year in a series of key problems of national defense worked out by the general board of the navy.

One of the phases of the problem is to test the defense plans for the Hawaiian islands, as shaped by the forces of the army and navy now stationed there. The bulk of the fleet, leaving California bases April 16, will engage in tactical exercises while cruising toward the islands. Within 10 days it should reach the islands, it being the problem of the fleet, determine time of its arrival and test defensive plans.

To Base at Hawaii
After a few days of refueling, the fleet will put to sea from Hawaii for the major tactical and strategic high sea phase of the problem. It will divide into two forces to comprise the White and the Black fleets. In the meantime a small force including one battleship, a division of light cruisers and the newest "vest-pocket" cruisers—the 1500 ton destroyers—will have skirted the Pacific coast to the Alaskan area and be moving down to join in the problem.

This phase of the problem is expected to be completed within 12 days, after which the whole fleet will be concentrated in Honolulu-Pearl Harbor waters for a week or so. The fleet will leave the islands May 20 with the major units proceeding to San Francisco, while the destroyers, train vessels and submarines proceed direct to their bases here and at San Diego.

U. S. Buys Bonds To Steady Market
WASHINGTON. (AP)—The federal reserve board began today a policy of open market purchases of government bonds in an effort to steady their erratic fluctuations. The board said this would maintain orderly money conditions and facilitate efforts of member banks to meet a 16 2-3 per cent increase in deposit reserve requirements May 1.

Government bonds slid to new 1937 lows recently.

Major Ralph Rites Held Here Today
Funeral services for Maj. A. S. Ralph, former prominent Santa Ana business man, were to be held this afternoon at the Winbiger Mortuary chapel. Major Ralph, who served as a captain in the World war, died Thursday at his home on Irvine boulevard. He was 70 years old.

MANY AUTO WORKERS BACK ON JOB TODAY
(By the Associated Press)
Shrill blasts of automobile factory whistles called thousands of men back to their jobs today. The labor picture was especially bright at Lansing, Mich., where officials predicted an early settlement of strike troubles in the automobile industry.

Approximately 15,000 in nine Chevrolet plants at Flint went back to machines and assembly lines.

A large army of soft coal mine workers went back to the pits. The Appalachian contract agreement reached Friday directly concerned 300,000 miners.

One million members was the objective of the Committee of Industrial Organization in its oil industry drive. The A. F. of L. pushed plans for a campaign of its own April 15. At Houston, Tex., Harvey Fremming, an aide to Lewis, said the C. I. O. was not looking for a fight and planned no sit-down strikes.

route East with eight persons aboard.

The luxurious airliner, being ferried to New York for transport to Holland, has not been heard from since a takeoff from the terminal here Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

"It had no radio transmitting equipment aboard," said Major Carl A. Cover, vice president and chief test pilot of the aircraft factory. "It had receiving equipment only."

A sister ship of the missing airliner took off from the Douglas plant, Santa Monica, today noon to join in a search for the plane wreckage sighted near Alpine.

No Transmitting Radio
Cover said that the new transport, piloted by Glen Moser, would ordinarily have taken a course similar to the TWA transcontinental course, across Southern California, northern Arizona, New Mexico to Albuquerque.

While the ship had no transmitting radio, it was completely equipped with all other devices for navigation, including radio direction finders and blind flying instruments.

Bad weather was reported over Arizona and if the ship got that far, Douglas Aircraft Corp. officials believed it might have been forced down there.

Eight Aboard Named
TWA records indicated six persons besides Moser and Co-pilot Joe Wolfolk, 32, were aboard the ship. George W. Stratton, assistant to the Douglas Corp. president, gave the following list of missing, besides the two fliers: E. R. Moser, 55, father of the pilot.

Merle Estey, 29, Douglas engineer; Lucille Estey, his wife; Bernard Troy, Jr., 35, parking station operator.

George Kent, Mrs. B. R. Uderlin, mother of a Douglas employee.

Kent and Troy were guests of the pilots.

CHAPTERS OF RED CROSS TO MEET

Plans for uniting with other chapters of the county in the Junior Red Cross group will lunch on May 15 in the Orange Woman's clubhouse were made at a meeting of the executive committee of Santa Ana Red Cross chapter Friday in the local office of 624 North Main street. Dr. John Wechly presided.

Miss Hazel Bemis, chairman of the Junior Red Cross in Santa Ana chapter, reported plans for the celebration well under way.

The disaster relief preparedness dinner planned for May 21 by county chapters, has been postponed, it was announced.

Quota Exceeded
Final total of flood relief funds received by Santa Ana chapter were announced as $10,997.17, more than twice its quota of $5000.

During the business session, the group voted to send Jess Haxton, one of its life saving examiners, to the national first aid and disaster relief school, to be held June 20 to July 1 at Neeley's resort on the Russian river. Two senior life savers passed tests under Jess Haxton this month.

Harry Edwards, chairman of first aid, recommended appointment of Clem Knox and Tru Scott Lindsey as first aid instructors, both having completed special training under Dr. James Farrage, authorized first aid instructor of instructors. Announcement was made of completion of training by a standard class under John Garret at Westminster and a class taught by Dr. Farrage in the Ford Machinery company in this city.

Other Classes
Other classes now in progress are an adult education class taught by James McWilliams, an eighth grade first class, taught by Harvey Emley, eighth grade instructor at George Washington school, Garden Grove, the first elementary school in the county to offer the Red Cross course to its pupils; and a standard class under Dr. Paul Fassinger in San Juan Capistrano.

Two classes in home hygiene and care of the sick, being taught in the adult department by Miss Gertrude Schroeder, are well attended, according to Mrs. Laura Warner, executive secretary for Orange County Red Cross association, who talked to each class

POLICE FIND SEX MURDER EVIDENCE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Smudgy fingerprints and the outline of a man's foot strengthened police search today for the brickbat killer who crushed the skulls of Mrs. Edna A. Worden, 48, WPA worker, and her 12-year-old daughter, Marguerite Estelle.

The two were slain early Sunday in their small hillside apartment, a block from the rubble of downtown Los Angeles traffic.

An elevator operator, hearing low moans, summoned the building manager, J. E. Harrigan. He knocked at the door, then peered over the transom from a ladder. What he saw hurriedly brought police homicide squadsmen.

Brick Near Head
On one bed of the living room lay the body of the blonde, curly-haired school girl, a bloodstained brick atop the pillow which covered the head. A rag doll she apparently had been holding as she slept was beside her.

On a nearby cot Mrs. Worden sprawled lifeless, her battered head touching the floor.

It was the sixth case since January of brickbat assaults against women here.

Detectives said the killer entered through a kitchen window after stealthily removing his shoes. Plaster casts of his footprints showed the wool fibers of his socks.

Find Fingerprints
Fingerprints also were found on the dusty exterior of the window. A screen, jammed at a hotel next to the apartment house, indicated the killer had first attempted to gain entry there. Finally, he had walked up a steep embankment to the Worden kitchen.

At 2 a. m. other apartment dwellers said they heard screams, but thought they came from a tavern a block below. The killer struck each of his victims at least four times with the brick, autopsy surgeons said. The discolored bedclothing indicated Mrs. Worden had struggled desperately.

Neither of the victims was criminally attacked, Surgeon A. F. Wagner said.

LONG FOLSOM TERM GIVEN McMATH

Local Court Imposes Sentence of Five To 14 Years

George F. McMATH, convicted last week on a fictitious check charge, was sentenced to Folsom penitentiary today after he told Presiding Superior Judge H. G. Ames of a series of prior arrests, in all of which he claimed he was an innocent victim of circumstances. He will serve from 5 to 14 years.

McMATH's conviction was based on a $30 check he gave to Harold L. Ball, Brea merchant. When arrested he was found to have several other checks on his person, bearing different signatures, all allegedly written by McMATH.

His prior conviction of grand larceny in Arizona, McMATH said, was the outcome of a liquor party for a couple of vaudeville actors on their wedding night. He said he carried several bottles of beer home from the party in an actor's suitcase, and was arrested for theft of the suitcase and clothing.

In order to avoid publicity, he said, he pleaded guilty and was given a suspended sentence. He said he had been freed of a charge of stealing auto license plates in Seattle when the real thief confessed.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, he told Judge Ames, after his wife had introduced a girl friend to a sailor. The charge, he said, was based on the introduction and the sentence was suspended.

McMATH said he had been arrested several times for drunkenness, but blamed it on family troubles.

Officers Team Up To Catch Driver

Officers Ralph Pantuso and W. F. Nielsen "teamed up" very effectively yesterday. Pantuso put Nielsen on the trail, and Nielsen caught a driver.

Pantuso called the station for a motorcycle officer at 5 p. m. yesterday, reporting a man in an automobile had been driving recklessly near Washington and Cust streets. Nielsen waited around a few minutes, saw a car come around a corner on two wheels, he said, and arrested Ray Emerson on a charge of reckless driving.

Scheduled air line aircraft will be required after Jan. 1, 1938, to carry static-free radio direction finders and antenna systems.

Officers Team Up To Catch Driver

Officers Ralph Pantuso and W. F. Nielsen "teamed up" very effectively yesterday. Pantuso put Nielsen on the trail, and Nielsen caught a driver.

Pantuso called the station for a motorcycle officer at 5 p. m. yesterday, reporting a man in an automobile had been driving recklessly near Washington and Cust streets. Nielsen waited around a few minutes, saw a car come around a corner on two wheels, he said, and arrested Ray Emerson on a charge of reckless driving.

Scheduled air line aircraft will be required after Jan. 1, 1938, to carry static-free radio direction finders and antenna systems.

SANTA ANA WINS GROUP TWO GOLF CROWN

Column Left

Five—instead of four—Orange county Amazons are in Hollywood R. K. O. party of girls who are now on a seven-month softball tour of the United States. The fifth is Miss Jean Sage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Sage of Brea. . . . The oil community also is represented by the Jackson twins—Miss Gladys Jackson and Mrs. Cordius Jackson—Hamilton, who accompanied Santa Ana's Ruth Lee and Los Angeles Lois Terry (formerly of Santa Ana). . . . Miss Hamilton batted .535 for the Coca-Colas of the Los Angeles league last summer, while Miss Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lee, hit a sensational .560 in the Santa Ana Girls' loop.

Touching all bases: "Louie Neva might make good at Ponca City, but it's very doubtful," comments Jimmie Heffron, silver-haired dean of Orange county sport writers. "He can't throw because of too much submarine pitching which has tightened the upper muscles on his right arm, and over-developed the underside muscles." . . . Incidentally, if Mr. Novikoff (this same Neva) does an el fold as an outfielder in the Western association, he will return to pitch softball for Huntington Beach. If he makes the grade, however, Neva will not be back in time to do the Oilers any good, because the Western association season runs into a Shaughnessy playoff at the end of the regular schedule Sept. 2. Stewart (Shorty) Smith, the Brea coach who umpired the San Diego-Santa Ana game here, was very much impressed by the pitching of Tommy Wilkins. He believes the kid, a junior, is a "comer."

Jerry Beranek, U. S. C.'s hockey goalie, paid $13.15 for his own outfit. It consists of pads, $42; skates, $13; gloves, $22.50; shin pads, $3.50; body pads, $5; protector, $4; socks, jersey and pants, $10, and stick, $3.15. His equipment weighs 42 pounds.

Bill Cook of the Dons may land the University of Arizona freshmen on his 1937 football schedule when he goes to Tucson Saturday as a guest of G. A. (Tex) Oliver, Wildcat coach and one-time headman of the Saints. . . . Cook is dickering for games with the Arizona frosh and San Diego State yearlings to complete his exhibition schedule, which already lists the U. C. L. A. and Stanford freshmen, Pasadena and Santa Monica Jaysees.

King Kong Kox Battles Rudy Strongberg Tonight

MAT MANIAC SHOWS FOR 3RD TIME

Martin Referees Feature and Wrestles Roebuck on 101 Arena Card

Acclaimed the wildest and most ruthless heavyweight wrestler on the Pacific coast, King Kong Kox, arrogant mat "maniac" from Northern California tonight makes his third appearance at the Orange County Athletic club.

Kox tackles the clever German

TONIGHT'S CARD
King Kong Kox vs. Rudy Strongberg, two-out-of-three falls, one hour.

"Boo!" Martin vs. Tiny Roebuck, two-out-of-three falls, one hour.

Capt. Myron Cox vs. Hans Schultz, one fall, 30-minute time limit.

Iron Mike Works vs. Young Stecher, one fall, 30-minute time limit.

heavyweight, Rudy Strongberg, in a best two out of three falls battle that tops a four-event program.

Disagree on Referee
"Boo!" Martin, wrestler-referee from the South, who also appears on the program, will officiate.

Martin, a newcomer, was selected as the third man when the mat "maniac" refused Hans Steinke as referee and Strongberg turned down Gentleman Joe Varga and Dick Rutherford. Both ruled against the small pint-sized Mickey McMaster, claiming he was too small to handle big men.

Winner over Capt. Myron Cox and Able Younist in two wild and woolly battles held previously, King Kong tonight faces a man who is generally regarded as the No. 2 threat of the German heavyweights. Although he lost to the giant Steinke, Strongberg showed sufficient class to warrant consideration, and in some quarters is being picked to send Kox back to Lodi a completely tamed wildman.

In the first three-fall, one-hour time limit match, the wrestling-referee Martin engages 295-pound Tiny Roebuck, Haskell Indian from Oklahoma. Roebuck is a powerful fellow, and backed by his knowledge of boxing, makes a formidable foe.

Rematch Works, Stecher
Determined to wrestle his way into a return match with the mat "maniac," Capt. Myron Cox, protégé of Nick Lutze, appears in the special event against Hans Schultz, the German who broke into local mat circles last Monday. Capt. Cox, a popular and clever matman on the order of his hosts, who last week had his hands full against the ring-wise Schultz.

A rematch between Iron Mike Works and Young Stecher opens the program. Works tried to beat two men last week, Bob Coleman and Stecher, and failed. Because of this he demanded and got a rematch with Stecher, whom he feels he can beat. The first bout is billed for 8:30 o'clock.

Nelson Surprises With 283, Takes Augusta National

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—There's no doubt about Byron Nelson's "Moxie" any more.

The gangling blond, who came up from Texas a few years ago, has convinced scoffers he's got the heart by his brilliant victory in the fourth Augusta National championship.

Byron won his greatest golf triumph yesterday the hard way. He took the lead and held it half way in the 72-hole fight, surrendered it to trail by three shots with 18 holes to go and then peppered the championship course with spectacular golf to win by two blows over Ralph Guldahl, comeback star now of Chicago.

His total of 283 came within one stroke of equalling the tournament record established by Gene Sarazen and Craig Wood in 1935 and was 20 better than Bobby Jones, who finished 29th among 46 starters.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK. (AP)—The football situation at Notre Dame is under control, all right. All Coach Elmer Layden has to do these days is announce tennis schedules.

Eddie Brietz

Usually he's talking his head off this time of year. Note to New York fight referees: At Los Angeles the other night, fans cheered a referee for stopping a fight.

Van Mungo of the Dodgers is turning on the heat early. He's fanned 21 men in 18 innings of exhibition game hurling.

That California college pitcher (Joe Gonzales) who turned in a no-hitter last week is ticketed for the Yankees. . . . This corner's dough rides on Montanez tonight, despite all that talk of "fix." . . . Marvin McCarthy reports via the Chicago Times that Hank Anderson is driving the Michigan line candidates so hard the grunts and groans can be heard all the way to Chicago. . . . Only thing lacking in those eye-witness stories of Mike and Kuppelnet vs. the St. Louis Cardinals (first time) was what the writers at the ringside did about the fight, if anything.

Ken Strong, the pro football star, is playing semi-pro baseball with the New York Springfields.

Harry Stuhldreher, Wisconsin coach, says the football huddle is doomed. . . . Frank Crosetti of the Yankees has reached page 693 in "Gone with the Wind." Is that boy fast? . . . Billy Taub, who tailors most of the Broadway sports mob, says Tony Canzoneri's taste in clothes is second to none. . . . Lou Chiozza of the Giants sticks out his tongue when making a difficult stop or catch.

George Watkins, former big league outfielder, signed with Houston on condition he be put in left. . . . George owns a sporting goods store in Houston. . . . He's got a sign in left field with a big bell in the center. . . . Any hitter who rings the bell collect $50. . . . "I want to stay in front of that bell," says George. "No player on the other side is going to get $50 from me if I can help it." . . . One reason the big fight in Chicago was held up was because the politicians out there were afraid Mike Jacobs would grab off all the good seats and scalp 'em.

POSTPONE DON TRACK MEET AT RIVERSIDE TOMORROW

Postponement of the Santa Ana-Riverside track meet, slated for tomorrow, was granted today at the request of Jesse Mortensen of Riverside, who said his athletes were handicapped by lack of training due to spring vacation last week.

The meet has been set for Riverside April 20.

DONS' RUGGERS MONTANEZ 7-5 OVER AMBERS

An eight-team round-robin series, with Santa Ana paired with the Santa Barbara Athletic club this week, will decide the Southern California rugby championship.

Coach Ernest Butterworth of the Dons announced late today he would attempt to bring Santa Barbara here Friday night, but would be willing to play Santa Barbara on any day except Sunday. Santa Barbara lost to the Berkeley university club, 5-3, at Santa Barbara yesterday. Santa Ana is unbeaten but twice-tied after five games.

NEW YORK. (AP)—They're looking for a crowd of 15,000 and a $50,000 gate at Madison Square Garden tonight when Lou Ambers and Pedro Montanez fight a 10-round bout with not even a title at stake.

That expectation is noteworthy in itself in a city where only heavyweights can ordinarily draw crowds. It's even more remarkable because Ambers wasn't considered much of an attraction when he took the lightweight crown from Tony Canzoneri.

On the strength of his record, Montanez has been established as a 7.5 favorite, but the odds were shortening.

Annexes Handball Title Third Time

CHICAGO. (AP)—Joe Platak of Chicago was handball's "all around champion" today.

The Chicago postoffice clerk held his third straight National A. A. U. singles title by virtue of a 21-13, 21-6 victory over Sam Acheson of Memphis, Tenn., Saturday night.

Trojan-Bear and Husky-Card Dual Meets Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—University of Washington Huskies and the Stanford Cardinals compete at Palo Alto next Saturday in a track meet while the University of California track team invades the University of Southern California at Los Angeles.

Saturday the California Bears had little trouble at Berkeley trouncing their little brother Bruins from U. C. L. A. 92 to 38, while the Olympic Club of San Francisco, led by Norman Bright, ace miler and two miler, trimmed Stanford at Palo Alto, 82 to 49.

University of Southern California went to Fresno to defeat Fresno State college field and track team, 81 to 41.

Kentucky Derby Favorite Despite Turf History

NEW YORK. (AP)—Although of his offspring never showed a liking for the derby distance of a mile and a quarter, and Pompoon is a son of Pompey. . . . Yet, Cyril Clark, trainer, believes Pompoon will prove the exception at the Downs May 8. . . . From Columbia, S. C., where Pompoon is receiving his early training, comes word that he is working fine. A few days ago, there were reports that the colt came out of a workout with a slight limp, but Clark quickly dispelled any talk that all was not right with his charge. . . . Present plans call for Pompoon to leave his southern quarters for New York April 8. He will make one start, in the $20,000 Wood Memorial at Jamaica a week before the derby, before departing for the Downs. The Wood should show whether the colt is anything more than a sprinter. . . . Pompoon, although beaten twice in eight starts, left no doubt as to his right to be called the two-year-old champion last year.

Key to Pittsburgh's Hurling Staff

Here is Ed Brandt, 190-pound southpaw, key to Pittsburgh's mound staff who will aid Shortstop Arky Vaughan of Fullerton and the Pirates in their attempt to wrest the National league pennant from the New York Giants.

DETROIT PEDDLES SIMMONS TO SOLONS FOR BARGAIN

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Al Simmons, who cost the Detroit Tigers $75,000 and a big salary for one season's work, went to the Washington Senators today at a bargain price.

Manager Mickey Cochrane, who bought Simmons from the White Sox late in 1935, refused to disclose the price placed on his friend and companion of championship days on the Philadelphia Athletics, but all Tiger camp followers were agreed it wasn't much.

Estimates on the sale price ranged from $7500 to $15,000 for the outfielder who hit well over .300 for 12 of his 13 years in major league baseball.

Santa Ana	78
Red Hill	75 1/2

Redlands	43 1/2

Santa Ana Country club's golfers took like sending flowers to Redlands today.

Without swinging a club, Dr. G. C. Ross' divot-digging brigade came into possession of the group two championship of Southern California inter-club play yesterday, and today was awaiting next Sunday's first playoff match with San Diego on a neutral course.

Red Hill needed 14 points to win the title, but Redlands held its rival to a 11-10 victory at Upland yesterday, which left Santa Ana at the top, 78 points to 75 1/2.

San Diego clinched group one honors by routing the second-place Victoria team, 17 to 4, at Victoria yesterday. The lineup Santa Ana sends against San Diego on a neutral course—to be named today—may be altered, but changes will not be made until later in the week, Dr. Ross, team captain, said.

Australia Pins Net Hopes On Two-Fisted Backhands

NEW YORK. (AP)—Visions of an Australian Davis Cup team basing its singles hopes on two players boasting two-fisted backhands were left today by Norman Brookes.

The president of the Australian Lawn Tennis association spent a few days here en route to England. He approved the courts at Forest Hills, where the Aussies are expected to meet the United States in the North American zone final May 29, 30 and 31. He also had time to expound on the subject of Jack Bromwich, Australia's 18-year-old star, who, like his countryman and Davis cup teammate, Vivian McGrath, employs a two-handed backhand.

Bromwich, in addition to his orthodox backhand, has developed a left-hand serve, then switches his racket to his right for subsequent strokes, said Brookes.

There is no definite line on the United States team except it is reasonable to sure Don Budge will have the No. 1 singles post. Graduation from the University of Southern California may keep Gene Mako, Budge's doubles partner, away from the matches with Japan at San Francisco. Meanwhile Bobby Riggs, Frankie Farker and Joe Hunt will contest for the available places.

TO OPEN NEW FURNITURE STORE

Don Andrews Launches Business Tuesday on East Fifth

Grand opening of the Don L. Andrews furniture store at 112-116 East Fifth street will take place tomorrow, it was announced today.

The new furniture store will open its doors at 8 a. m. and will remain open until 9 p. m. on the opening day, it was announced.

Completely remodeled and redecorated, the new store is one of the most attractive in the city. Everything from the smallest unit to complete home furnishings is available at the store. It was announced that because of being a half-block off the main street in the low rental district, high quality, modern merchandise will be offered at low prices.

Andrews, well known in the furniture business throughout Southern California, announced that it will be possible to take care of any kind of accounts at the store, and that payments will be arranged to suit the convenience of patrons. One of the features of the service to be offered by the store is an interior decorating service. The store will be glad to advise on and discuss any decorating problems.

The store will handle eastern and the best of western made furniture. Kitchen ranges to be handled feature the popular Magic Chef line. Natural light which floods the store makes it possible for patrons to make a true comparison of colors and materials.

The store will employ four persons. Andrews, who has made his home at 941 West Camille for the past 16 years, has lived in this city for 31 years. He was connected with the furniture business in this city for 12 years. For the past four years he has been manager of a big furniture store in Long Beach. He is a veteran of the World War and is well known in local civic and business circles.

4 FACING 'LOVE NEST' CHARGES

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Four young men have been charged with moral offenses as a result of a police raid on what Deputy District Attorney Florence Woodhead described as "flaming youth" parties raided by Culver City police.

Frank Bauer, alias Speed Morgan, pugilist, was accused of plying 16-year-old Barbara Page with liquor and with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Criminal attack charges were filed against Elwood Jackson, 3rd, 19; Harvey Rubie, 24, and Ted Barber.

Jackson was accused in connection with the transportation of Miss Page to Mexico, where they planned to marry. Deputy Woodhead said the ceremony was never performed.

The other two men were charged with attacking Valerie Rice, daughter of wealthy parents, and Marjorie Folsom, both 16 years of age.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Concern heightened today for three young women, missing since they started on an automobile trip to San Francisco last Wednesday. Their machine was found abandoned in Redlands the next day.

Objects of a statewide search by authorities, they are Caroline W. Smith, 18; Mrs. Violet Watkins, 27, Yorktown, Ind.; and Mrs. Hazel Mae McKay, 27.

The new Don L. Andrews Furniture store, shown here, will greet its first visitors and customers tomorrow. The store is located at 112-116 East Fifth street, where a building has been remodeled for its occupancy. Andrews, owner of the new store, has been a resident of Santa Ana for many years.

QUEER SLAYER IS HUNTED

STUTTGART, Germany. (AP)—Police appealed to the public today to aid search for an eccentric slayer who provided the money for burying his victim.

The headless and legless body of a woman was found near Kirchheim last Sept. 18. Since then the slayer periodically has written police—once to indicate there were extenuating circumstances for his act, then to send money for funeral expenses and flowers, and even later money for a tombstone. He sent a sketch of the stone and instructions for this inscription: "Grave of unknown woman who died Sept. 16, 1936. Rest in peace."

Police said they had no clue to identify either the victim or the slayer.

Another Threat Note to Actress

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—District attorney's investigators today were investigating the receipt of a strange letter by Tom Conlon, business manager for Anna May Wong, American-born Chinese actress, which threatened the actress' life.

The letter was the second threat missive sent the actress within the last two weeks. The first letter demanded $20,000 of the film player on risk of permanent injury to close relatives.

Pair Barred From Practicing Law

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Irving M. Gilbert and his wife, Lois Preston Gilbert, of Pasadena, were under suspension by the state supreme court today from the practice of law.

They were convicted in Los Angeles of criminal conspiracy to commit grand theft in connection with the handling of an estate and sentenced last month to terms of six months to five years in prison. Their suspension was made effective until the judgments become final.

Unidentified Man Bridge Suicide

PASADENA. (AP)—Police attempted today to learn the identity of a 40-year-old man who leaped to his death from the Colorado Street bridge into the Arroyo Seco Sunday.

No papers were found in the clothing, from which all labels had been removed. Records differ on the number of suicides at the noted bridge, but some sources list 83.

FREDDIE NOW IS SON OF AUNT

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Freddie Bartholomew, child screen star, became the legal son Saturday of his aunt, Miss Mylicent Mary Bartholomew.

"It's what I've always wanted," the 13-year-old actor said. "I'm very happy."

"Aunt Cissie" said, "this is quite the happiest day of my life." The child's parents, who returned to England after coming here last summer to contest with Miss Bartholomew over Freddie's custody, previously filed their consent to the adoption.

The English-born juvenile star earns about $1200 a week.

Distressed Ship Drifts Off Azores

CHATHAM, Mass. (AP)—The German liner Bremen reported today the disabled German freighter Borkum was in "safe" condition as she drifted helplessly off the Azores.

After standing by two hours, unable to take off the freighter's crew because of heavy seas, the Bremen proceeded to Cherbourg, leaving the S. S. Subalto standing by until the German naval training vessel, Schlesien, arrived.

The Borkum, carrying a crew of 34 and three passengers, first asked for assistance early Saturday.

ACTOR TRIES TO END OWN LIFE

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Friends of Owen Moore, 51, actor and first husband of Mary Pickford, were arranging today to have him moved from the psychopathic ward of the general hospital. Court permission, it was indicated, will be asked to place him in a private sanitarium.

Moore was committed to the hospital upon a complaint by his wife, actress Katherine Perry, that he became intoxicated last Thursday and, in a moment of depression, threatened her and cut himself with a knife.

A brother of Tom and Matt Moore, he started his film career as a juvenile in 1910, marrying Miss Pickford a year later. After her divorce in 1920, she and Douglas Fairbanks were wed.

Cancer Research Fund Is Sought

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Senator Homer T. Bone of Washington has introduced on behalf of virtually the entire senate membership a bill to authorize expenditure of $1,000,000 annually for cancer research.

The measure bore the names of more than 90 senators. Congressional records showed this to be unprecedented, although some bills have carried 20 or more signatures.

FOOT TRACKS AS CLUES TOLD

Wilkie Describes Tracing Murder on KVOE at 7 P. M.

Given: One footprint. Problem: Describe the person who made the footprint, giving the exact height to the fraction of an inch; give his or her weight; state any injuries received by this person during his or her life; give the habits and former connections of this person; how long it has been since the footprint was made, and what is most important, where the person is who made the print.

Impossible? No; comparatively easy if you know how. How the above details were obtained in a comparatively few minutes after a murder had been committed will be told in detail by Capt. Don Wilkie, criminologist and former United States secret service ace, during his true-to-fact "In the Crimelight" broadcast from KVOE tonight at 7 o'clock.

DOUBLE BILL FOR FORUM PROGRAM

Prevention of War To Be Topic at Santa Ana Meeting

The Santa Ana meeting of the Orange County Federal forums held each Monday night at the high school auditorium will be marked this week by a "double feature" program when two able forum leaders and men well known in the educational field, come to the platform for a panel discussion of "Who Will Prevent the Next War—France or Germany?" The speakers, Dr. John Brown Mason and Ernest R. Bryan.

Can France and Germany, considered "traditional enemies" keep the peace?

In view of his understanding of the German situation, Dr. Mason will support the German side to the question. He was born in Berlin, son of American parents, and attended the Humanistic Gymnasium in Kossin until he was ready for college, when he came to America to pursue his university training.

Colorado Educator

Dr. Mason received his A. M. and Ph. D. degrees at the University of Wisconsin. For two years he was Carnegie fellow in international law and held the post-doctoral award as honorary holder of political science. His present post is head of the department of social sciences at Colorado's Women's college, where he is also professor of history and government.

Bryan, instructor with the extension division of the Massachusetts department of education and a student of international affairs whose knowledge of such matters has brought him an enviable place in the literary world, will present the French viewpoint.

It is expressly stated that this discussion will not be in the nature of debate. Rather, the two speakers will cooperate in bringing out the respective French and German viewpoints of the situation with an aim to a better understanding of the issues and points of view involved—but they will not debate.

World War Fear

The general fear is that some time in the future a war will break out between these two powerful nations which will become the beginning of another world war.

Bryan and Dr. Mason will discuss the question as to just what keeps the French and Germans apart and what the chances are of their coming together. When it is remembered that the English and the French also used to be "traditional enemies" but have now buried the hatchet, the possibility of an agreement between France and Germany assumes a new importance.

Following the panel discussion, the usual 40 minutes allotted to questions from the audience, will be observed. The meeting is called for 7:30 o'clock promptly and is free to the general public.

GIRLS FOUND DEAD

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The bodies of two young women, clasped in each others arms, were found Friday in the bedroom of an up-town apartment. The room was filled with gas. Police said the two, Adrienne Courtenay, 27, and Dorothy A. Lawrence, 26, had been dead at least two days. Both were unemployed.

Tim Rowray Lives Despite 'Sentence' of Death

By KENNETH ADAMS

It was five years ago when the death sentence really was passed on LeRoy "Tim" Rowray. But he didn't know it until two years later. Doctors didn't know it, either.

It was only when the young man reached the famous Mayo Brothers clinic in Rochester that he knew. "You've got Buerger's Disease," they told him.

It was worse than a death sentence. Tim was condemned to be cut to pieces, inch by inch, until death came as a relief, because Buerger's and allied diseases of the circulatory system have defied medical science for 3000 years. There is no cure. All that is known is the appearance and the consequences.

Seeks Advice

It was odd how the thing started. At first Tim had a pain in the calves of his legs, and he thought it might be fallen arches. Then started his long trek from doctor to doctor, from noted surgeon to famous specialist. But none of them knew the trouble. Which wasn't his fault, because the disease is one of the rarest.

Tim developed a small blister on one of his toes. Then the toe dried up and started dropping off, little by little, leaving the bone exposed. Later the trouble spread to the upper part of his right foot. He was in such constant, unbearable pain that he could not sleep, day or night, even for a few moments, despite liberal injections of morphine.

Leg Cut Off

They operated on Tim five times. The first two were on the legs, the surgeons cutting deeply to slash the nerves in the legs. This was supposed to stop the pain. But it didn't. Then they cut clear through his abdomen to the backbone, where other nerves were shashed. But that didn't help. Then the surgeons cut deeper into the legs to reach other nerves. But that didn't do any good. And then, about two weeks ago, they chopped off his leg, seven inches below the knee. This wound is not yet healed.

In many other cases they have cut off fingers and toes, then feet and hands, until nothing is left but a torso and a head. Victims of the disease usually are glad to get rid of the members that cause them such excruciating pain. But other growths from within the body, and eventually the victim dies.

Healing Springs

Tim is interested in a queer body of water three miles long by one mile wide lying in the entrance to the state of Washington's famous Grand Coulee, known by the Indians as the "healing springs." Here the government sends war veterans, who find some relief by bathing in and drinking the water of Soap Lake, as it is called. But Tim hasn't much chance of getting there. He isn't a veteran. And he's spent a lot of money with doctors already.

Tim had hoped his five operations would halt the spread of the dread disease. But now the toenails on his left foot are starting to turn a funny color. And they are so sore that even the touch of bedclothes is unbearable. Fingers of his hands are starting to bother him.

But nobody would know of the strange thing that has happened to Tim Rowray. Not even if they stop every day at his little cigar stand at 311 West Fourth street to buy cigars and matches and chewing gum. Because Tim is brave and a good sport. The same grin that greets his two little girls when they stop to see him greets all his friends when they stop by.

OFFICERS TO GIVE STAG DINNER

New Ideas Regarding Insurance Plan to Be Discussed

Members of the Orange County Peace association were looking ahead today to their meeting next Wednesday at Orange, which will be a stag affair. It will be held in the V. F. W. hall, Chapman and Orange streets, Orange, and will begin with a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

The dinner will be an unusual affair, planned by men, cooked by men and served by men.

The association has issued an invitation to all officers of Orange county, associate members and those who were active or associate members to attend the meeting. Several ideas of importance to the association in the coming year will be discussed, according to D. R. McMillan, president.

"We expect to have several new ideas given us in regard to our insurance plan and desire full attendance of officers in order to have you express your wishes and desires us to what action should be taken," said McMillan.

Police Chief George Franzen of Orange will be in charge of entertainment.

Occidental Plans Golden Jubilee

Honoring a half-century of educational achievement in the Pacific Southwest, Occidental college, during the week of April 12-17, celebrates its golden anniversary with a series of events commemorating Founder's day on April 15. Joining in the celebration are four other Southland institutions, University of Southern California, U. C. L. A., Caltech, and Claremont college.

Additional events are the spring meeting of the Association of Colleges and Universities in the Pacific Southwest at Occidental April 17, and special golden jubilee commencement exercises June 7.

Students from Santa Ana attending Occidental this year are Harry Bee, John Henderson, seniors; Glen Gardner, Marion Parsons, juniors; Charles Spicer, freshman, and Agnes Stewart, post-graduate student.

Bill Proposes Numbering Boats

Owners of small boats not now registered with the U. S. customs office must be assigned numbers if a bill proposed by county assessors meets favor in the legislature, Assessor James Sleeper reported today.

Assessors took the matter up at a conference to which they were summoned by the state board of equalization. Sleeper returned Friday.

Sleeper said a bill which would take collection of the sales tax from the hands of the board of equalization and give it to a commission to be appointed by the governor apparently was killed in committee after assessors gave opposition.

PLAN TO AD YOUTH WORK DORMANT

No Action Taken Upon Proposal to Hire New Officer

Plans to employ a new county officer to promote coordinating councils throughout Orange county apparently have been abandoned for the present.

Supervisor John Mitchell, appointed to confer with the county juvenile committee, which is headed by Presiding Superior Judge H. G. Ames as judge of the juvenile court, reported today that the group has not agreed on a plan.

The county juvenile home is in need of repairs or enlargement, but there are no funds in the current budget, Mitchell said. Some members of the committee favor proceeding with the building before spending funds for the semi-official coordinating councils.

J. A. Cranston, chairman of the Santa Ana coordinating council, which was formed more than a year ago to combat juvenile delinquency, has been mentioned as a leading candidate for the proposed new county post.

He would act as an officer of the juvenile court. Coordinating councils are provided for in the state juvenile court law. In Santa Ana the council has sponsored summer camps for underprivileged children and has taken other steps to give a new viewpoint to children in danger of becoming moral or health problems.

P. O. Hand Rail Petition Granted

The Lions and Kiwanis clubs of Santa Ana started something when they petitioned the post office department to install hand rails on the front entrance steps of the Santa Ana post office.

The communication reached F. J. Buckley, acting for the assistant postmaster general. Buckley got in touch with the district engineer in San Francisco and told him to prepare plans and specifications for the hand rails. These plans then will be forwarded to Santa Ana.

Contractors will be asked for bids on the job.

Having done these things, Buckley wrote a letter to Postmaster Frank Harwood, informing him that the post office will have hand rails.

S. A. Man Appeals For Help in Finding Brother

Know where Jesus Roa is? If so, his brother, Evaristo Roa, 614 Flora street, Santa Ana, would like to get in touch with him.

Jesus, his brother said today, was last heard from in San Benito, Texas, in 1926. At that time he was living with his father, Rafael, who has since died. They had been in San Benito for about two years, having come there from La Piedad, Michoacan province, Mexico.

Evaristo Roa today asked The Journal for assistance in finding his brother. A letter in 1926 was the last he heard of him, and he thinks perhaps Jesus Roa may be in California. He says his brother is 22 years old, about 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 140 pounds, and has a medium dark complexion.

MANY GROUPS JOINING IN CAMPAIGN

Decision by Hopkins Awaited Here For Three Weeks

The drive for a separate WPA district for Orange county is still on.

Rebuffed once, supporters of the movement are continuing their effort to convince authorities Orange county is entitled to a separate establishment, which would mean addition of a number of administrative workers to the local staff.

Orange county is now part of the WPA district with headquarters at San Diego.

B. Z. McKinney, chairman of the Democratic central committee, said today petitions are still being sent to Harry Hopkins, head of the WPA at Washington, D. C. Already petitions from 65 to 70 per cent of the cities and districts sponsoring WPA projects in Orange county have been sent to Hopkins, McKinney said.

The campaign started about three weeks ago. The first request was made of George White, WPA chief at San Diego. White said he did not have authority to order the establishment of a separate district, but that he would not oppose the move.

State headquarters of the WPA also reported it has not the authority to authorize the change. The drive then was aimed at Hopkins. So far he has not replied to the urgent requests. McKinney said it is still rather early to expect action on the matter as such requests must travel a devious course through departments and offices before final action is taken.

Establishment of a district here also would speed up and simplify the handling of Orange county projects, it is contended here.

The board tonight also is scheduled to take action on moving tents from the high school grounds. Superintendent Frank Henderson said some of the tents may be available for private sale. Elementary schools also have asked for tents for extra activities.

Secret Wedding of Santa Ana Couple Told to Friends on First Anniversary

Sixty-Five Invited To Reception

Wellman - Schnebly Nuptials Are Announced

When friends responded to invitation of one former Santa Ana girl, Mrs. Clyde Spears (Ruth Ann Walker), for a reception Sunday afternoon at her home at 2006 North Highland avenue, Hollywood, in honor of another charming former Santa Ananite, Miss Ellen Margharita Schnebly, they were all prepared for an announcement but not for the surprise that awaited them.

Greeted at the door by their hostess, in a lovely azure mandarin coat over a green crepe hostess frock, and by the honored guest, who wore a velvet tea gown of a wood violet shade, with a half circle of anemones shading from rose to pale violet at the throat, their first intimation of the happy news was the plain band of yellow gold which the latter wore on her wedding finger.

Old Rings Combined

The wedding ring which the bride of a year was wearing when the news was told on her first anniversary was of plain yellow gold, made from the wedding ring of her mother, the late Mrs. William Francis Schnebly of Santa Ana, and from a ring of French gold which had belonged to Mr. Wellman's great grandfather. The bridegroom also has a wedding ring of identical style, made from two rings which have been in his family for many years.

After the announcement tea had been turned into a first anniversary party, and the first congratulations and good wishes were over, the guests were invited to the dining room where a pretty table with maderia cloth and silver service stood in readiness to add to their pleasure.

Miss Lella Watson, who poured at one end of the table, had sent her hostess a beautiful bouquet of eastern white lilac from her own garden, and these formed the centerpiece in a low bowl. White tapers in silver holders flanked either side of the bouquet, and Mrs. Sharpless Walker, mother of the hostess, poured tea at the other end of the table.

Wedding Cake

The pretty wedding cake, which occupied a prominent place in the dining room decorations, had been made by Mrs. Walker and was an exact duplicate of the one she had made for her own daughter, Mrs. Spears, when the latter was married two years ago in Santa Barbara.

Flowers predominantly in lavender, yellow and white shades were arranged throughout the white colonial interior of the Spears' attractive home, Miss Watson also sending iris and other spring flowers from her garden and Mrs. J. Parley Smith a large bouquet of ranunculus.

Mrs. Roy Wellman of San Diego, mother of the honored guest's husband, and Mrs. William H. Going of Los Angeles, the bride's grandmother, assisted in receiving the guests during the "at home" hours of three to five o'clock.

Sixty-five friends of the young couple were invited, some from Orange county where the new Mrs. Wellman has lived most of her life, and from Los Angeles and Hollywood, which have been her homes this past year.

After the reception, a few close friends gathered for a second party in the Spears home, an intimate little supper courtesy complimentary both Mr. and Mrs. Wellman. Places were laid at the dining room table and the wedding cake, in which had been concealed little fortune favors, was cut at the dessert course.

Among Santa Ana guests invited for the supper hour were Mr. and Mrs. Robert White, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Nalle, and Jimmie Adams.

After the supper, the honored couple, who have kept their marriage a secret all year except from their own families and a few of their closest friends, returned to their home at 721 Cypress street, in Santa Ana, where they will be at home to their friends after April 15.

The house has been completely redecorated in the last few months in readiness for its new occupants, Mr. Wellman's aunt, Mrs. Retta Baker of San Diego, assisting them in furnishing it with lovely old New England pieces which have been in the Wellman family for years.

To Live Here

Her return to Santa Ana will be a homecoming for Mrs. Wellman, who lived here during her girlhood and most of the time until a little less than a year ago she went to Hollywood to accept a position.

A graduate of Santa Ana schools, from her earliest grammar grades up through junior college, she later took special work at Fullerton Junior college and worked as society editor on the Fullerton Tribune and later as first society editor for The Santa Ana Journal.

At the same time, she studied voice under Theodore Schroeder of Los Angeles and sang in the Newport Beach Christian Science church.

The past year, she has been doing motion picture writing in Hollywood. After she has settled in her home here in Santa Ana, Mrs. Wellman plans to continue her writing and music studies.

Mrs. Wellman is a graduate of the Francis Parker preparatory school in San Diego, the San Diego Army and Navy academy, and Pomona college, and has a private pilot's license in aviation, which is his hobby. He is employed in the advertising department of The Journal.

GIRL RESERVES FILL WEEK WITH OUTINGS

This has been an outdoor week for the Girl Reserves, who have included among their activities these last few days such things as outdoor suppers, swims, and campfire breakers.

On Thursday, the Lathrop seventh grade Girl Reserves, with their leader, Mrs. Dan Stover, and the G. R. executive secretary, Miss Mary Porter, cooked their suppers out at Fisher park on tin can stoves which they had made, later enjoying games.

The Willard and Lathrop eighth grade girls held a joint swimming party Friday at the Y. M. C. A., with Miss Mackie Knight as life guard, and then went to the Y. W. C. A. for a pool-party. Plans were supervised by Mrs. Charles Crumrine, Lathrop leader; Miss Roberta Nichols, leader of the Willard girls, and Miss Porter. Games, a program, and dancing were enjoyed in the evening, and plans were made for an all-day hike together in the near future.

The Mexican girls of Willard and Lathrop also held a joint meeting Friday under leadership of Miss Elizabeth Robinson and Miss Helen Lowe, making final plans for an April dance next Friday at the Y. W. C. A. This will be the second in a monthly series sponsored by the two groups for Santa Ana Mexican young people.

Willard eighth grade Girl Reserves had an early morning "cook out" Saturday at Fisher park, then hiked to Orange county park under leadership of Miss Joy Townsley and Miss Porter.

LUNCHEON MARKS BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Porter Luther entertained at a pretty luncheon Friday in her home on Yorba street, Tustin, complimenting Mrs. Ruth Walker of Santa Ana on her birthday anniversary.

Spreading one table for her guests with a hand-embroidered cloth, the hostess arranged a centerpiece of pink stock in a black Fostoria bowl and carried out all the other appointments in black and pink. At Mrs. Walker's place was a box of pretty handkerchiefs, a birthday gift from her hostess.

Invited to honor Mrs. Walker were the Mesdames J. D. Campbell, Walter West, L. E. Allen and Glenn S. Warner, a group of friends who have gathered frequently for parties during many years of friendship.

Stade-Bosch Nuptials Occur

A beautiful spring wedding was that of Miss Dorothy Stade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Stade, 142 North Cambridge street, Orange, and Henry C. Bosch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bosch, Orange, at St. John's Lutheran church, Saturday afternoon.

White satin and lace, a long train, long sleeves puffed at the top, and train length veil of net and lace, made the dress of the bride. The veil was held with a halo of pleated net and sprays of orange blossoms, and her flowers were gardenias and lilies of the valley, with an orchid center.

The best man was Adolph Bosch, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Carl Bosch, Victor Borchard and Dick Ehlert. Bridal music preceding the ceremony was provided by Miss Dorothy Flintham, vocalist, and Theodore Hopman, organist.

The Rev. A. C. Bode read the rites before an altar banked with Easter flowers.

About 100 guests gathered at the Walker Memorial hall for the reception which followed. The bride made the first cut in a three-tiered wedding cake which centered the refreshment table on which burned tall white tapers.

Mrs. Alton Ried, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Adolph Bosch, sister-in-law, poured, and Miss Flintham sang again.

The new Mrs. Bosch is a graduate of Orange High school, a member of the life honor society of that school, and attended Santa Ana Junior college. She was affiliated with Las Gitanas, and has served as president of the Orange Toastmasters club, Los Angeles, and is employed in the offices of a local citrus association.

The couple left immediately for a two-week honeymoon.

Mrs. Perkins had planned the party for her granddaughter before the accident which kept her away from the actual festivities, but she kept in close touch with the arrangements and during the party had her nurse call from the hospital and send greetings to the young bride.

Poets' Corner

California Verse Reprints With Comments By MINA SHAFFER

"THE VERMILION BIRD"

This anthology, compiled as a tribute to the state of California, is a permanent contribution to its literary history. Rena Sheffield is a nationally known poet, a member of The Poetry Society of America, the League of Western Writers, Southern California Woman's Press club and the Academy of American Poets. She is widely known for her column, "The Philosopher's Stone."

FOREWORD

Each poet knows intimately his particular niche in the universe. Then let him sing of it, the Middle West with its black blizzards and unforgotten plains, the South with its bayous, hills of rhododendron and scarred turpentine trees, the East with its sleepy villages, throbbing cities and ever-changing seaboard, each region differentiated by its mood, its patois, its customs and its people, all combining to create the great, living American panorama.

Some have declared that this bending of the individual to his environment, stifles the poet and makes him sing less subjectively, less vibrantly. But I suspect even Pegasus needs a spur at times to make him take the hurdle of the poem. As a literary experiment I have selected Los Angeles county as a setting to prove that poets may use material at hand, relying on no demised Greek heroes, Roman catacombs or Egyptian Nile to embellish the scene.

The poets included in this anthology represent both northern and Southern California, although the poems themselves interpret some phase of this chosen locale. My grateful thanks to the authors who have so generously contributed, and to their publishers listed elsewhere in this volume, also to Franz Geritz for his charming book print, "Eucalyptus Trees," REINA SHEFFIELD.

TIME OUT FOR ROMANCE

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

Admiral Skinny Skirvin, one of the best known dryland sailors in Orange county, isn't such a pal of mine, after all. Skinny kindly volunteered to write this column, after a certain amount of persuasion and a number of more or less liquid promises. He accused me of trying to get away to go sailing, and now I'm going to be forced to deny it, and then spend the week trying to hide my sunburn from him.

Here's what Skinny did for me Saturday while I was—well, while I was working:

That little red headed shrimp of a Brick Gaines is pickin' on me again. Says "Hey, Skinny, how about writing a column for me for Monday?" And Monday was almost fifty hours away before press time. What's the little cuss up to now, thinks I? Askin' a hard working ole man to write his column and another for himself. Don't he think the readers of this sheet have to stand for enough when they read one of my columns without breaking over into the county page?

So I look around to see if Commodore Paul Bodenhamer and Brick have exchanged nautical signals and making a goat out of a land lubber. But I didn't catch 'em. I suspected they wanted to sail on, sail on, and slip the county column to me, but they showed no betrayal signs. Which goes to show that the children of this generation are wiser than a lot of us fellows who arrived a long time ago.

Just about this time Brick puts on his hat and sneaks out the back door. And it wouldn't surprise me if a check was made on his movements he wasn't in Newport 20 minutes later putt'ng around the bay or in a sailboat which he says he owns, but he has never showed me a bill of sale. Guess he doesn't use that kind of a sale.

Anyway I didn't promise to write his column for him. I just started to write because I had something on my chest and wanted to get it off before it made me sick. What do I know about these county boys? Why, I can't get out of the city limits any more to say hello to the fellows I do know.

However, when it comes to throwin' dust, Brick or otherwise, I can qualify. I'm something of a matador in my own right. Don't I own an orange grove? But when a pal tries to put over an evasion it lifts my blood pressure and I hesitate about lettin' him hit for the little cuss. However, after calm reflection I decided maybe that boy wanted to see what a Saturday afternoon looked like, so I starts in with the jabber, without any idea where the music was going in or coming out—if it did.

If he's on the square, o. k. If not he will pull a faux pas and I'll catch up with him sooner or later. Course when you get wealthy enough to own a sail boat you should devote some of the money to vestment. If I owned one I would do something unusual with it. I'd poke it's "snout"—you see I know more about hogs than sail boats—right into the mouth of the Santa Ana river and when the first flood came along would be the first man who ever sailed the Santa Ana river—and the last.

Guess he meant for me to write this column. I just looked around to see if the coals of fire some one put on his head were as burning, and he isn't visible. Still, I was in the request. But he laid himself wide open. I could say something about the wild parties along the coast line and the school kids drinking—"but not much." I won't be catty like that. Brick only said what some other fellows said and most of the newspapers say what other people say. That's why we have newspapers. If you talk too much, well, don't do it.

Sometimes I've thought I would like to be a county editor. There are so many mistakes to attend, you get home late and have a reason for it. You get to know people who do things for their communities, and their opinions on public issues. They are the men who get the devil for devoting a lot of their time and money to make the county a better place for a lot of cranks to live in.

Guess this isn't the way Brick would write about it, but I've seen so much ingratitude offered as compensation for public service that I sometimes wonder how we are able to get men to accept public office.

Commodore Bodenhamer, Brick's accomplice in the nautical line—water and otherwise—just came in and refused to look me in the eye. I just can't get away from the suspicion that everything is on the up and up with those two kids. If only one of 'em owned a boat I wouldn't worry. But two boats is more than I can keep track on in one afternoon.

Oh, well, I'm goin' do a little sailin' of my own. But it won't be up water. You know I can get seasick just looking into a bath tub. That's why I had 'em put in a shower. But if Brick deceived me about wanting to see the color of the sky on a Saturday afternoon, and then went to the movies, Nita again held Martha and her whole audience spellbound. As she finished her dance, applause thundered. Then came an encore. Martha, watching, became aware that Nita was obviously dancing this time for someone in particular. The dancer's eyes went again and again to a table in the back of the room. Curious, Martha turned to see who was there—then gasped.

Three tables away from her, in a corner, sat Nick Garnett! The room was in shadow except for the spotlight on the dancer, but there was no doubt that it was Nick. Martha stared at him. Then, her anger flared. So he had led when he had said he would return home today! At the time, he had intended to be here at the Oakville hotel tonight to see Nita Lombard—three days before his wedding date!

His face was turned away from Martha, but she knew bitterly that if he had been facing in her direction, he would not have seen her, for he had eyes only for Nita.

Variations of facial foliage served as chief means for the identification of men passengers on the Asheville street railroad company's transfers but women presented a more difficult problem. It took a bold man to firmly pinch a hole above the "elderly lady" picture when a "just past 35" woman awaited her transfer.

MILITARY PRESIDENTS
While both Theodore and Franklin Roosevelt served as assistant secretaries of the navy, they served in a civilian capacity only, as do all men holding that post. No President of the United States has ever been a member of the navy personnel---yet, 13 served as members of the army!

POTATO COIFFURE
At the time of Marie Antoinette's marriage to the Duc de Berri in 1770, the potato was looked upon as poisonous by a majority of the French people. When Marie arrived at Versailles to meet her husband-to-be, she wore potato blossoms in her hair. Her odd coiffure did much to popularize the potato.

Dear Judge: Did you ever know a taxi driver to take the shortest route?
G. P. B.

Yes, there was an amazing case at Sawtooth Prairie, Utah, where the driver actually took the shortest route, and the passenger knew it. The incident brought on the forerunner of the sitdown strike---the "sitdown stroke." The passenger sat there and had apoplexy.

On Our Way to Inflation

ALTHOUGH inflation of commodity prices is going ahead rapidly, not all of the increase has been passed along to the consumer. It's just a matter of time, however, until it will be. Then the shoe will really pinch the wage earner and salaried man.

As an illustration of how prices are moving up, look over this list showing commodity prices last week and for the corresponding period last year:

	Av. Last Week	Year Ago
Corn, Chicago	1.14	.61
Wheat, Kansas City	1.35	1.14
Rye, Chicago	1.25	.70
Coffee, Santos	.11 1/4	.08 3/4
Cocoa	.12	.05 1/2
Cotton	.15	.11
Print Cloth	.08	.05 1/2
Wool	1.15	.93
Silk	2.12	1.75
Pig Iron	24.00	19.50
Steel Bars	2.45	1.85
Copper	.16 1/4	.09 1/4
Tin	.65 1/4	.48
Lead	.07 1/2	.04 1/2
Zinc	.07 1/2	.04 1/2
Hides	.16 1/2	.13
Rubber	.25	.15 1/4
Moody Index	222.1	170.3

President Roosevelt laments that there is inflation in the steel and copper industry. The whole truth is that inflation is rapidly gripping every industry, as the above table proves, and nobody can do anything about it because all private business is linked up in an inflationary chain started by the present governmental fiscal program of living on borrowed money.

The quickest way to stop it, in our opinion, is to balance the federal and state budgets. Otherwise, prices are going to continue to rise faster than wages. And the average citizen will bear the cost.

When Mexican farmers sit down in a governor's palace, they "seize it." But when automobile strikers sit down in a factory, they "occupy" it.

Future of the Sitdown Strike?

STOP 10 people on the street and probably nine of them will agree with you that the sitdown strike is an illegal violation of trespass laws. But will this viewpoint gradually change to the opposite extreme?

The Nation, a liberal weekly magazine, offers some challenging ideas on the subject.

After pointing out that the strike itself, once considered illegal, is now taken as perfectly proper; that picketing, once illegal, is now lawful; that the labor boycott is beginning to be recognized in some states; and that the injunction, once widely used to break strikes, is now illegal in 16 states and the federal courts—the magazine adds:

"The law on the sitdown will also change—is, in fact changing under our very hands. Judges are human, and even judges are not entirely impervious to realities outside the courtroom. Judge Campbell spoke more softly than Judge Gadiola before him; the next judge will speak more softly than Judge Campbell. For they will come to understand that there is more in the heaven and earth of the sitdown than is dreamt of in the doctrine of simple trespass."

So there you are. In the light of past facts on labor and capital relations, it would take a confident man to say that five years from now we all will not accept the sitdown strike as a proper part of the shifting modern scene in this cock-eyed world.

The pendulum may swing the other way, however. If union labor continues to abuse the sitdown method as it has in the Douglas Aircraft and Chrysler strikes, the public might react even more sharply against it and insist that laws protecting private property be fully respected by strikers as well as employers.

Some of the supporters of the President's plan say the supreme court decisions are "political." Anyway, they keep down the cost of hiring more judges, and they reach the same result.

Cutting the County's Main Highway

SANTA ANA can well afford to go to bat alongside Fullerton, Anaheim and the whole north end of the county against the annoying way in which the state highway department has erected its stop sign at the junction of the new Manchester boulevard and Highway 101.

The department is forcing southbound traffic on Highway 101 to stop, giving motorists on the new road the right of way.

This apparently is a topsy-turvy state of affairs, since Highway 101 feeds the county seat from Fullerton, Anaheim, Whittier and the entire north end of the county; whereas, Manchester boulevard is merely a cut-off from Los Angeles which carries a high percentage of truck traffic.

We do not know on what basis the highway department justifies severing the main route of thousands of motorists to Santa Ana and the beach area, but we would be glad to hear the reason.

According to the Fullerton News-Tribune, some influential Los Angeles group appears to be at work through remote-control of local affairs.

At any rate, the highway department should either prove to the satisfaction of Orange county that such an arrangement is wise and proper or it should reverse the situation and put the stop sign on Manchester boulevard instead of on the county's major through artery.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

In the manner of Arnold Bennett's journal: M. and I decided on a day's buttermilk diet yesterday but at 4 p. m. I broke down and raided the ice box but she, as always kept the pledge. A day for sun athletes: Swirling wisps of fog, high wind, and drizzles of rain. Typically Londonish.

Frank Crowninshield or someone who knows food was telling of a new restaurant experiment for upper Park avenue. A place where only light table wines will be served. No music. But food par excellence. It expects mostly a middle aged and elderly patronage. M. jeered she was glad someone was catering to age.

All things being equal, I was telling Will Hays, I choose the movie that shows Mickey Mouse. And he wondered if I knew one of the high lights in Mickey's creation aside from his humility and stressing the old-fashioned virtue ever triumphant theme.

In the studio where Mickey is turned out there it no private profit, because of an economic theory that it is an enemy of progress. Whilst all employees receive high pay, nobody, and that includes Walt Disney himself, gets an income that would twitch an eyebrow when judged by Hollywood standards.

Speaking of cinema comedy, we have wondered why those Elmer Lane stories of the yodel newspaper correspondent turned out by Richard McCauley have not been filmed. Or have they? It takes children to deflate the grown-up ego. I thought myself quite a bit of a yodeler in evening coat and top hat tamper just so for a dinner the other evening. But an outrageous moppet in squealing shoes coming into the entrance turned and said: "Nurse, was that in the Macy parade?"

Park avenue doorman was presenting an interesting costume display. The Whitehall guard effect at the Park Lane must have touched it off. Up a few blocks I noted a shellacked helmet like the police wear in German towns and a London boy motif and that of a Grenadier guard. In a town where front is so emphasized, a doorman's regalia has pulling power. But we wonder if one of them do not feel a bit foolish in their royal ringdoo, rushing out to open a door. They suggest many ideas for Peter Arno hilarities. I went to a private auction the other day and was outbid on a set of Voltaire but was comforted when I found it contained 97 volumes. That is too much from one author. Too voluminous to be of great account. It suggests the helter skelter of columnists.

I heard Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, noted bibliophile, at Major Bowes' observe that one's private library should be yellow and express a catholic enthusiasm. One should have an affection for Addison as well as Robert Cortes Holliday. For Dr. Johnson as well as Wilda Cather. He spoke of authors in symbology. Sarah Jewett expressing the flavor of her life, May Alcott the flavor of Queen Anne's lace, etc., etc. Charlie Driscoll was recalling the other day that Mark Twain was once hooted by the "Algonquin Crowd" of that day for his English and his brand of humor.

Among my increasing radio annoyances is the high-toned pronunciation of the news broadcaster H. V. Kaltenborn. I've wondered if he really talks in private conversation in that falsetto style he affects on the wireless. He cannot seem to make up his mind whether to speak Oxonian or American English. In addition he has a precise prunes and prisms enunciation that suggests Bert Lahr faking a British toff. One has a feeling, upon tuning in, that he is being spoofed. And life is too full of spoofs these days.

An interesting letter from Gilbert White, the Paris painter roughing it in Palm Beach, ended in this abrupt manner: "I get off here!" All letters should end in sudden stop and make you wish there might be more.

A new scientific gadget grades milk according to its color. This instrument, known as a colorimeter, was recently demonstrated at a convention. A specimen of milk is placed in it, and a beam of light passes through the milk. The amount of light transmitted is then very carefully measured. Highly colored milk transmits less light than milk of low pigmentation, so measurements were easily standardized.

"Darling, where are your manners. The lady is speaking to you."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—In the past four years New Deal master minds have executed many strange and breath-taking gyrations on the question of relief. In fact, the darling young man on the flying trapeze had nothing on the administration's relief policy. At present New Dealers are in the midst of another tour de force—perhaps the most astounding of all.

So far it has been kept under cover. But it will break into the open shortly, when President Roosevelt sends his relief estimates for the new fiscal year to capitol hill. In a nutshell the story is this:

Secretary Harold Ickes and Works Progress Administrator Harry Hopkins have completely exchanged positions, and now are taking sides exactly the opposite of those they once held. Their feud over relief policy is of several years standing. The best of personal friends and both ardent advocates of generous relief grants, they have differed sharply on how the money should be spent.

Ickes favored a great nationwide program of permanent public works, such as schools, power plants, stadia, housing and slum clearance. He argued that such projects would reduce unemployment by stimulating heavy industry. Hopkins disagreed. He contended that the way to create jobs was for the government to do so directly through quick "made work" projects—cleaning up parks, building swimming pools, laying sewers, etc.

Ickes' projects, Hopkins held, would largely require skilled labor, of which there was relatively little on relief rolls. WPA projects, he pointed out, needed little skilled labor, would provide immediate work for the great majority on relief rolls.

After months of secret discussion and deliberation, Roosevelt sided with Hopkins. Ickes' public works administration was not put out of business entirely, but its wings were drastically clipped. WPA became teacher's pet.

LOOP-THE-LOOP

But no sooner was it in the saddle than the WPA began slowly but steadily to abandon its own sphere and move into the territory of its rival FWA.

Instead of confining its operations to "made work" projects and concentrating on relief labor, the WPA branched out into the heavy type of construction, requiring non-relief skilled labor. More and more, as it muscled into the field, WPA freed itself of the restriction that a preponderant percentage of the labor employed on its projects must be relief labor.

More and more of late, it has granted complete exemptions from this rule. Privately, some of Hopkins' lieutenants are even talking of abolishing the rule entirely. Thus, the WPA would become Works Progress plus Public Works administration. While this transformation has been developing in the WPA, Ickes has been rigidly held to the narrow confines laid out for him. With the WPA depleting the supply of skilled labor not employed in private industry, he found it becoming virtually impossible to undertake PWA projects because of the lack of the necessary craftsmen. The result has been to compel Ickes to gear his works program to the type of labor that is available—semi-skilled and unskilled relief workers.

Thus, he, the vigorous foe of the WPA, has been forced to fit into the position of a tail to its kite. The WPA strides on to more and greater PWA type of projects while Ickes is more and more pushed into undertaking the kind of works originally clamored for by Hopkins.

VIRGINIAN VS. VIRGINIAN

Senator Carter Glass's impassioned radio fusillade against the President's court bill brought the aged Virginian a flood of letters and telegrams. Most of them effusively congratulated him, but some did not. One of these, signed "A Virginian" read:

"A hell, why don't you move to Maine?"

BLIND CONGRESSMAN

Most of the visitors to the botanical garden at the foot of capitol hill come to see the flowers. But Matthew A. Dunn comes to smell them and to touch them.

Dunn is the blind congressman from Pennsylvania. He comes frequently to the flower show, led by a companion. He stops by a flower whose scent attracts him, puts his hand out to touch the blossoms. "My, that's a beautiful flower!" says Mr. Dunn. Then he passes on until another scent arrests his attention.

TOURIST RUSH

This is the season when the 531 senators and representatives are least in the making. A crowd of spring-bonneted, camera-toting, gum-chewing sightseers. Mere congressmen are an obscure minority, must elbow their way through crowded corridors.

The staff of guides is increased for the spring holidays, and they expound to gaping broods on the wonders of the capitol. Here is a typical purple passage:

"Face this way, please, and let your glance behold the full length of your nation's capitol building. This is the longest unobstructed corridor of any public building in the world. It measures 751 feet—so long that you could lay the Washington monument along this corridor and have nearly 200 feet to spare. . . . Now come this way, please, and we shall see the senate restaurant, where your senators take their lunch. . . . And the influx has only begun. Real peak of the tourist business comes with the cherry blossoms." (Copyright, 1937)

HOW ABOUT SHEEP?

To the Editor: In The Journal, perhaps timely, you talk about letting wildflowers grow. It is of course unlawful in most southern counties to pick these flowers.

On a recent trip to Bishop, in the Owens valley, many times along the lonely stretches of road I observed waves of children and their parents picking these flowers. When a car hove in sight, they fled as though panic stricken for their cars. Yet peacefully grazing away within a half mile or two of these parties, were thousands of sheep. This was a public domain, where humans were forbidden to touch these flowers. Is this not a travesty of the first magnitude?

The sad part of it all is that many of these roving bands of sheep are owned by people who are not citizens. Among them are Basques, Portuguese, etc., who herd most of California's sheep. One healthy sheep will pick more of the precious flowers in one day than many families of women and children.

I am of the personal opinion that either the legislature is the work of some one who wants free food for his sheep, or else of some person or persons woefully ignorant of their subject. It has the effect of granting to sheep, rights denied American people on their own land, in their own country.

The bands of sheep I observed numbered in two cases 3600 and 5200 sheep, respectively. I recently observed a band of 3200 peacefully harvesting the entire crop of wildflowers in the Pedley hills. Think it over, and you may also appear ridiculous to others.

Respectfully,
D. L. VASEINDER.

Bright Moments

Sir Walter Raleigh was one day in Queen Elizabeth's court, and someone took him to task for preying on Spanish merchants.

The gentleman, in particular, was very vehement in his words. "Why, if you continue, you will soon be a pirate," he said. "Tush," said Raleigh, "my lord, did you ever hear of any one that was counted a pirate for taking millions?"

One Man's Opinion

By X REPORTER

Although I have never been closely associated with them, I have always had a high admiration for homing pigeons. There's something noble, almost divine, about the gentle but stubborn birds which recognize no danger and brook no obstacle in their forever determination to go "home."

Annals of our American army and the records of pigeon breeders are filled with anecdotes of heroism and sheer stubborn overcoming of great odds on the part of the peaceful little messengers which have played serious roles in the wars of the world during many centuries.

I won't repeat any of these stories here, for many of them are well known. But here are some interesting excerpts from a recent issue of the Scientific American that added to my small store of information concerning homing pigeons—and to my admiration for them.

"Greater and greater peacetime uses will be found for the pigeon if the sport of falconry is not too actively revived and if the type of hunter who likes to take a pot-shot at anything that flies can be persuaded to exempt this useful bird.

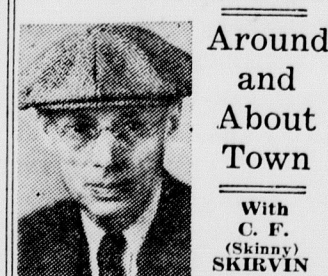

There is scarcely a single important pigeon race from which one or more do not return with shot-gun pellets lodged in breast or wings, and many a fancier hesitates to "toss" a valuable bird when these hazards exist. . . .

"Birds tossed from the roof of a broadcasting station while the station is idle will go through their conventional 20-second spiral ascent and start for home. But let the broadcasting begin and the birds will circle helplessly for several minutes and finally settle to the ground again. . . .

"A bird released at some distance from the fort (Fort Bliss near El Paso) did not return on walking. Days later he returned, but in the interval he had been caught by someone who wanted to keep him and had clipped his wings to guard against his straying away. But the bird came home anyway."

Not long since a timber-cruising friend brought me a little aluminum circle helplessly for several minutes and finally settle to the ground again. . . .

Skinny Skribbles

This month's issue of the "Police Blotter," official publication of the Orange County Peace Officers' association, contains a mystery. According to Jess Elliott, editor, the vice president is "W. Hunter Leach." The "W" throws an element of doubt into the machinery. Countless citizens who know Hunter Leach are beginning to wonder if the "W. Hunter Leach" is one and the same person, and if so what does the "W" stand for—if anything. From a private source I am informed it stands for "Winifred," but I haven't been able to find out if "Winifred" will stand for it. Any way, I don't like this masquerading, and if Hunter wishes to continue to abide in my affection he must come clean, and I do not mean from Orange, either.

An item appeared in this column a few days ago about a baseball and reference made to a fellow named "Fellows," but it was not the Feller I intended to talk about.

Visitor to Los Angeles reports an unsolicited service. At a certain Figueroa intersection, when the signals delay your motivation a guy with a cloth rushes up to your car and launches a windshield attack. You didn't ask for the service, but you get it. And if you drive away without letting go of a tip that's your business. For the life of me I can't see where this sort of a racket contributes anything to the Los Angeles popularity, or supplies an attraction to visitors.

My route up-town takes me past the Roosevelt school on East First street where the little girl figures stand sentry for the protection of the school children as they cross the street. These inanimate figures are really sentry, but they call their attention of drivers of "ne location of a school and the danger to children as they pass from one side of the street to the other. The crossing guard is alert to the safety of the "kiddies," but even in those hours when his watchfulness is not required the little "girl guards" call attention to the traffic that they are there in the interest of child conservation. They are polite. They do not talk back. But they talk to you in their silent language and if you listen to their inaudible appeal you may avoid a tragedy.
